Re: Julian Vara

It is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation on behalf of Julian Vara, a Computer Science student at Riverside Community College. Over the last three years, I have witnessed Julian's remarkable growth in his college career, taking courses in computer science, calculus 2, discrete math, advanced object-oriented programming, and biology. His dedication, effective communication, and technical prowess have left a lasting impression.

One standout achievement during the past three months was Julian's creation of a professional website for my maintenance company. The site is not only visually appealing but also seamlessly organized, with linked pages for easy navigation. Julian's technical expertise allowed him to optimize the site, choose an appropriate domain name, and keep it up-to-date.

Julian's ability to balance school, work, and additional technical responsibilities while maintaining a positive attitude is commendable. He is an asset to any employer, bringing energy, passion, and dedication to every task.

Without reservation, I wholeheartedly recommend Julian Vara for any internship he is seeking.

Sincerely,

Angel Osornio
